The suggested topics for papers and presentations include:

1. Technical development trends and prospects forecasting for friction and sealing materials all over the world;
2. Strategies for participating in international competition and exploring overseas markets;
3. Innovative development models including industrial chain integration and collaborative platforms among industry, academia, and research institutions;
4. Achievements in new products, new processes, new materials, new equipment and new standards;
5. Reflection and experience on green low-carbon, intelligent, and high-end transformation;
6. Analysis of application research and technical breakthroughs based on actual operating conditions;
7. Sharing on the application of green materials, green product development, and green technology implementation;
8. Cultivating new quality productivity and shaping new driving forces and models for industry and enterprise development.

Paper Publication

1. CFSMA will edit and publish the submitted papers in the Proceedings (Chinese version), with a "Summary" of no more than 200 words required before the main text.
2. Submitting a paper signifies the author's agreement for it to be published in the Proceedings. If there are any objections, please inform us.
3. If your paper is accepted by the CFSMA expert review panel and you are invited to present at the technical session, please prepare a PPT presentation within 30 minutes.

4. The speech can be delivered in either Chinese or English, and simultaneous interpretation services in both Chinese and English will be provided at the technical session.
5. To acknowledge and promote the papers contributors and presenters, we will introduce the authors and presenters through various channels such as CFSMA's official website, conference journals, conference guides, and X-stand displays. Therefore, please provide your electronic color photo in two-inch size and a personal profile of approximately 200 words.
